

Yassas Katharina and Jan!

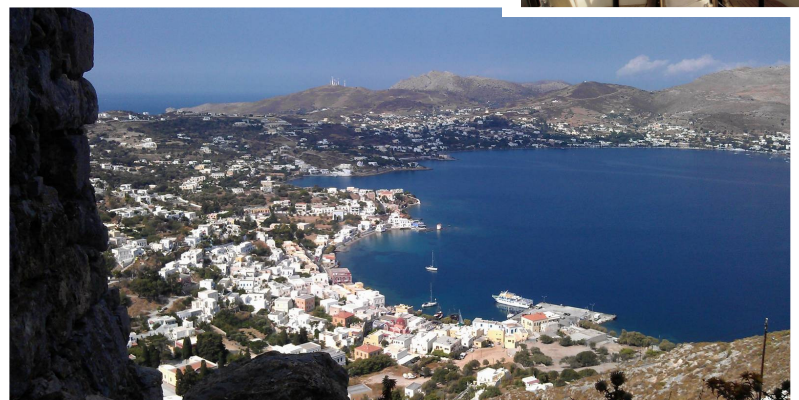

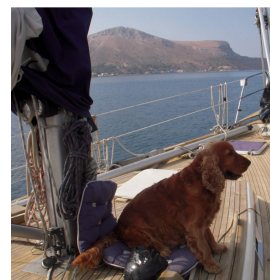

Katharina (honorary granddaughter!) & Jan enjoy a relaxing week on Leros at the house. Good food, evenings BBQing, backgammon with a seaview, a day on Havana, lazy taverna lunches of fresh fish, succulent souvlaki ...what more could you ask for? So glad you could make it, guys. Hope you will have many, good memories of Leros and the house on the hill. Yammas!

Our own little mermaid!

Hurrah !!- the repairs to Havana are finished! She is ship-shape! Sadly, Jan is not and travels to Rhodes to visit a marvellous chiropractor. However, his shoulder injury is going to take a long time and he is advised not to risk any dangerous movements hauling anchors or ropes so we abandon plans to sail our remaining two free weeks. Just an hour in the bay to check the new gearshaft. How we have missed it! But we have stayed on board and next year we will make up for it and sail north to Prevesa and Italy.

24 Sept.-the weather is absolutely beautiful - windstill. Havana is lifted out for the winter. We think we deserve a bottle of champagne – put it in the freezer to chill and ...it explodes! That just about sums up the year! And now, after a trouble-free summer, a general strike is scheduled for tomorrow, the exact day, of course, when our next guests , Jytte & John travel to Leros, and Peer & Birgit to Kos to join us in a week. The locals shake their heads - they are crazy in Athens! Siga, siga! Take it easy....sit in the sun, sip an ouzo, you will arrive....we'll be waiting.
